ANNOUNCER: And now for a quick little war bond quiz. We've asked Kenneth R. Wells, assistant to the Chairman of the 7th War Loan Drive here in Cook County, to be on the receiving end of this question and answer part of this program. Ken, we want to know how many bonds we of Chicago and Cook County are going to have to buy to meet the 7th War Loan quota...

KEN: The overall quota is $745 million. But our E bond quota is $171 million- this is 60 percent more than the amount of E bonds sold in any previous drive.

ANNOUNCER: No wonder it's called the Mighty 7th...we'll have to work mighty hard to put that quota over. Now tell us a little something about the men and women who are on the Cook County 7th War Loan committee...

KEN: Lawrence F. Stern, president of the American National Bank is general chairman. He has appointed ten vice-chairmen, all of whom have accepted the responsibility for vital phases of the campaign.

ANNOUNCER: Ten vice-chairmen? Tell us who they are...

KEN: Federal Judge William J. Campbell; Leigh R. Gignilliat, Jr., Vice-President of the American National Bank; George Huth, Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia, who is also chairman of the payroll savings division.

ANNOUNCER: That's three...who are the other seven.

KEN: A. B. Keller, Vice-President International Harvester Co.; Sam Levin, Manager, joint board, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of American and D. Dean McCormick, Partner Kebbon McCormick & Co.

ANNOUNCER: That's six...where's the other four...

KEN: Frank Rathje, President, Chicago City Bank & Trust Co. Mr. Rathje is also chairman of the important house-to-house canvass division. Right here I want to put a plug in for Frank Rathje...he needs volunteers for

KEN: house-to-house canvassing. If there are any in the audience who can (Cont'd) volunteer, Call Central 8760.

ANNOUNCER: When does the house-to-house canvass start?

KEN: May 14, the same as the official starting date of the Mighty 7th.

ANNOUNCER: You've still four more vice chairmen to tell us about.

KEN: The next on the list is George F. Spaulding, Vice President of the Northern Trust; Patrick F. Sullivan, President, Illinois State Conference Building & Construction Trades Council; and Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman, Women's Division, Chicago and Cook County War Finance Committee. Mrs. Wolf needs a plug too.

ANNOUNCER: Tell us about it.

KEN: She needs volunteers for the war bond booths, in hotels, theatres and office buildings. She's also promised to help Mr. Rathje's women volunteers - so all women in the audience who can give a little time in their own neighborhoods. They are needed in the house-to-house canvass. Women are asked to call Mrs. Wolf at State 2940.

ANNOUNCER: I thought you said there were 10 vice chairmen...you've mentioned only 9.

KEN: William T. White, vice president of Wieboldt's Stores is about the busiest man in Chicago...he's Chairman of sales promotion and publicity committee for the entire 7th War Loan here in Chicago and Cook County.

ANNOUNCER: Yesterday was V-E Day...do you think the fact that the war in Europe is now over, that it will be harder to sell war bonds?

KEN: No...on the contrary, I think people want to get the rest of the war over, and realize that the more bonds they buy the sooner we can whip the Japs and bring the boys back home. We all have different reasons why we want to see the war ended, and we all have different reasons for buying bonds. Our minute men and women have learned that most people have a soft spot that can be reached.

ANNOUNCER: Thank you, Ken Wells, for coming over here and giving us this wonderful behind the scenes picture of the mighty 7th War organization.
